- Exchange Redemption – Accountholder initiated fund transfer of any portion of a Shareholder's assets in an IRA out of a Fund (not including the withdrawal or distribution of assets out of an IRA).
- Frequent Trading – Any self-directed rebalancing trade in excess of (2) within thirty (30) calendar days.
- Portfolios/Models – The investment portfolios currently or prospectively offered through the IRA as a result of allocation advice being offered by Financial Soundings or any other technology-driven advisor ("Robo-advisor").

- Second Self-Directed Trade – Accountholder initiated rebalancing trade followed by a 2nd Accountholder rebalancing trade within a thirty (30)-day period.

Mechanics:

- 1) The first rebalancing trade across the portfolio results in a pop-up communication outlining the definition of our Frequent Trading Policy.

- 2) The second rebalancing trade attempt within 30-days of each other results in a pop-up warning for the accountholder that if executed results in a 30-day restriction in the account:
 - a) The restriction does not apply to contributions, withdrawals, any exchanges as part of a portfolio or model resulting from a Robo-advisor or an automatic rebalancing program; only accountholder initiated rebalancing trades.
 - b) In effect, the IRA accountholder will be allowed (2) self-directed asset allocation trades in any 30-day period.
 - c) Future self-directed trades in excess of this policy will result in the same 30-day trading restriction in an account.

Monitoring applies only to accountholder-initiated exchanges involving any fund within any IRA account. This policy may be modified to adjust to legal and modified trading requirements.
